DIAGNOSTIC STUDIES:

CT Abd IMPRESSION:

1. Evaluation is limited by the lack of contrast.
2. Lucency over the upper spleen which may represent developmental cleft or laceration. Follow-up is recommended.
3. Fractures of the transverse processes at L2, L3, and on the right at L4.

CT Chest IMPRESSION:

1. There is a moderate sized left-sided pneumothorax with mild patchy airspace opacity in the left lower lobe which is most compatible changes of pulmonary contusion. Fractures of the left 7th through 11th posterior ribs are identified.
2. Redemonstration of comminuted displaced fracture of the left humerus

CXR 6/19/12 @1505:

No pneumothorax identified. Multiple acute rib fractures are present posterior lateral on the left at the 6, 7, 8 and 9th ribs. Minimal patchy density at the left lung base may represent pulmonary contusion. Other atelectasis and/or infiltrate are possible. No pleural fluid is seen. The lungs are otherwise clear

CXR 6/19/12 @1817:

1. Interval placement of left chest tube. No definite pneumothorax is seen.
2. Mild patchy opacity in the left base similar to previous study probably representing contusion.
